City of Central

“Country Living in the City”

A place with great schools, a low crime rate,
and an easy, country atmosphere.

A place where God, country, home,
and family mean everything.

A place where the sense of community is real, and people still look out for their neighbors and their neighbors' kids.

Central Volunteer Fire Department

Established in 1972, the Central Fire District maintains five stations covering 60 square miles, 35,000 people, 9,500 homes, and 400 businesses. It has 29 full-time employees, 11 contract employees, and 3 volunteers who help man the stations 24 hours a day. The district has one of the lowest property tax millages and per capita costs in East Baton Rouge Parish. In every emergency, Central counts on the firefighters of the Central Fire Department.

Incorporated in 2005, the City of Central consists of nearly 27,000 people in a land area of 66 square miles. Shelton (Mac) Watts was appointed the first mayor by then-Gov. Kathleen Blanco and was subsequently elected by the people. The five members of the City Council are elected at-large. The Council meets at 6 p.m. on the second and fourth Tuesday of each month. The Planning & Zoning Commission meets at 6 p.m. on the fourth Thursday of each month. The East Baton Rouge Parish Sheriff's Office provides primary law enforcement in Central, and the Central Fire Department provides fire protection in much of the City of Central. The City of Central has contracted out almost all city services and operates at a surplus.

Supt. Mike Faulk

The Central Community School System is an independent school district created as a result of a statewide referendum which amended the Louisiana Constitution. On July 1, 2007, the East Baton Rouge Parish School Board transferred all public schools in Central to the Central Community School Board. Since then, the Central school system has grown from 2,500 students to more than 4,500 students in the 2013-2014 school year, making it the fastest-growing school system in Louisiana. In August 2012, the new $55 million Central School Complex was opened, a state-of-the-art facility housing Central Intermediate and Central Middle Schools. Central is now one of the top performing school systems in the state.
